Helen:

This was mentioned in the minutes and you suggested I ask you what this means?

Paul Titchener Collection

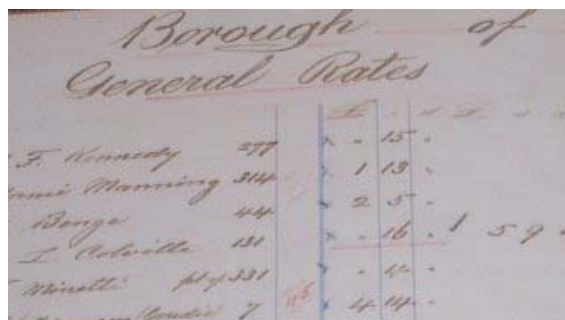

Paul Titchener, local historian, former Mayor of North Shore City, former stationer and bookshop owner in Devonport, has recently left Bayswater for pastures new.

Mr Titchener has kindly donated the Museum a mountain of material that he has acquired over the years.

Including:

1. Photographs, slides and photographic plates
2. Correspondence— letters written to him in connection to his Beginnings articles. Some of these letters contain important family history and other Devonport and North Shore information.
3. Artefacts and miscellaneous items e.g. 1920's dog collars, 1920's rugby club cap, old ferry tickets, bricks from Duder's brickworks, WWI package containing dressing for wounds, carbon rods from early Devonport Cinema projector, decorative brick and roof ornaments from the 'Castlereagh' house, flags, badges, etc

Scrapbooks
4. Scrapbooks
5. Devonport Lawn Tennis Club material
6. Devonport Ferry material
7. Boating material
8. Newspapers and newspaper clippings
9. Beginnings material
10. Personal and professional material e.g. During his time as Mayor of North Shore City; stationer and bookshop owner
